I love graphic design so much that I earned a degree in it twice...

My name's Eddie Barkman, I've had quite a career doing design work...in class. I've even had a little experience outside of class. I'm really passionate about design because I love figuring out the artistic and technical solutions to a design problem. I'd love the opportunity to work someplace where I can learn to become a better designer.

* I kind of know what I'm doing...
